THE BUSINESS SITUATION

IN FAYETTE COUNTY.

The past week has witnessed a financial upheaval in Fayette county which has resulted in the suspension of a leading Uniontown bank and the appointment of receivership for a number of prominent capitalists hereafter interested in Greene county coal lands.

There is nothing in this situation which threatens the general prosperity of the Connellsville coal region. The suspensions are temporary. Not one of the presently embarrassed capitalists is bankrupt. All of them are rich men. Their assets are ample, but they are not liquid assets. On the other hand, they are in the ground, and will not get away. The situation may be relieved at any moment by the sale of large blocks of this coal land, negotiations for which are understood to be pending. Such sales will enable everybody to meet his obligations and resume his business without restraint. We will hope that this happy condition will soon arrive, but in the meantime it will be well to keep in mind the central fact that Fayette county is not suffering from bankruptcy but rather from an embouchure of riches.

While this condition prevails with regard to a score of capitalists, general conditions in the Connellsville coal region show distinct signs of improvement. The H. C. Frick Coke Company has increased its working time and is preparing to fire additional coke ovens to provide coke for idle blast furnaces of the United States Steel Corporation which have been blown in after a long idleness. The corporation itself operated its mills from 10% to 20% better during January than during December, and the improvement continues. The Connellsville coal region did not feel the full effect of this improvement for the reason that considerable coke iron was stocked at the furnaces. The impetus has now reached us and will from this time forward be felt.

The tide has turned. In spite of the individual misfortunes above recounted, which may themselves prove not so serious after all, the Connellsville coal business is evidently due to see a decided improvement which will be reflected into the local business of the Connellsville region. The Connellsville banks and business houses are sound. They have not been carrying any Greene county coal lands.

Wherefore, to good cheer. The Democratic times have been a lot trying, but we are working our of them. The war on business has ceased and the war in Europe is bringing us business out of the dark despair comes bright hope. Don't stand still and shiver. Go forward with confidence. Prosperity is on the way. Like as not you'll meet him.

THE SLANDER.

The very bones of stammering have caused many healthy bones to the foundations of finance and trade the thrones of kings to trouble. Since the separation of the Thirteen states, there have been due to enormous holdings of Greene county coal, it seems, that gold has been free with the affairs of everybody, including all the other banks, which makes the Uniontown Herald to warn other gamblers that under a Pennsylvania statute they are liable to a fine of $2,000 for circulating such ridiculous tales as have gone around recently. Speaking of the banks generally, The Herald said:

"Those who are at all informed upon financial and business conditions know that the banking institutions of the town and country are in better condition now than they have ever been and that they have not abandoned their affairs with the greatest possible care during the past year and a half. This has been due to a considerable extent to the conditions surrounding the big institution which closed last week, other banking houses prepared for every eventuality and when their fears became actualized it found them in complete preparation, fortified as never before and with available cash much greater than the law or the necessities of banking require. Not one of them is in any shape or form. Not one of them can meet every demand without immediate or delay. Not one of them needs outside assistance, although it has been freely offered by large institutions in other cities. In each instance the proffered help was declined with thanks because it was not needed in any particular."

THE CAUSE AND THE REMEDY.

"It did not at first seem to me that we had the present Tariff, completely would have been worse than they are, and if the Tariff law had not checked the industrial depression will continue." Is the tariff a cause? We believe before the Industrial Relations Committee, in that it was a cause, but the tariff is not the remedy. We should be willing to sacrifice to help make the Republic a more and more the Democratic party in power in order to keep our own Tariff conditions.

There we are, except the Bull Moose was not a member of the party of a Free Tax Tariff?

PETEY DINK—There's One Thing Petey Can't Stand For.

COKE MARKET IS FIRM WITH PRICE AT A LOW LEVEL

No Negotiations are Under Way for Furnace Contracts.

WAITING ON THE FURNACEMEN

Until There is Material Improvement in the Pig Iron Market Negotiations Are Likely to be Held in May, June; Wide Range in Domestic Coke.

From the Weekly Courier, PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—A new addition of pig iron futures code has been charged a week ago. There is no indication to be held at $1.00 or more regard to an eighth of standard futures when the rate of 10 cents per barrel was increased with the market at $1.00, and the rate of $1.00, but the market has not shown any large increase, and nothing indicates a market.

So far as can be ascertained there are no negotiations for furnace coke on contracts, for the market in the pig iron trade, in which none would be expected at this time, and the range in market is 10 cents per barrel, and the upper price is not expected to the Washington market, though it is possible this might be done at additional bidding, if there is no market for furnace coke on the part of furnace interests.

Pig iron futures are presented in wide range of price, some sellers are offering what is designated as standard, foundry coke, which is sold at $1.00 per barrel, and the middle on the other hand, is quoted at futures ranging at $2.00 per barrel, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, $5.50, $6.00, $6.50, $7.00, $7.50, $8.00, $8.50, $9.00, $9.50, $10.00, $10.50, $11.00, PEG O' MY HEART

By J. Hartley Manners

A Comedy of Youth Founded by Mr. Manners on His Great Play of the same Title—Illustrations from Photographs of the Play

Copyright, 1913, by Dodd, Mead & Company

The next day he affered his entire will and made Margaret O'Connell a special legacy. A day later, all came.

Constance, Margaret, and Anna, too. The law, or rather, at once, made all theirs, in its through their brothers in New York for a O'Connell's money.

That night Kimworth slept with the young disturbed. He was so tired that in the morning, it is the best kind of rest he had done for many years.

How, but had he told himself of all his life if by doing so little, he was repaid so much?

O'Connell had a hard struggle with his conscience, but he could not let it go.

He met all his accounts with a bitter sarcasm. Nothing would remain, when he was gone.

Why should I go to a man I have never seen and tell him the truth?

It's your own business to tell me all about my life. And it was a great relief to him to tell me, "I'm going," plucked O'Connell.

He did not listen to any talk at all about me, you. You a great, strong, healthy man—what's wrong with you?

What are you talking about? What's wrong with you?

It's the time must come some day.

All right. We'll know how to do it when it comes. But we're not in it till the time to meet it," said he reluctantly.

CHAPTER X

Partway From Home

For a few days he was very perturbed, but he was
